This week COVID caught up with us again and unfortunately Phoebe is now in isolation due to a positive case at school close to her....thankfully she has no symptoms and only one more week to go until she can go back out. It's been lovely having her at home though

We have been very excited to put up our Christmas decorations - much earlier than usual!! And have also attempted gingerbread houses.....very delicious if not that professionally decorated.

This time last year we were heading to Holland to my Cousin's wedding and then on to Germany to the Christmas Markets in Osnabruck....this has possibly influenced the choice of some of the music this week and I hope you enjoy.

We also hope that you are all keeping safe and well and look forward to seeing you again soon.

Lots of Love

Sarah, Tom, Emily and Phoebe xxxx
