There was much excitement in the Carter house this week as the girls and I broke up for the Christmas holidays and Tom only has a couple of days left next week. We are fortunate and very thankful that we are able to take a few days off this year with the girls and have a break before starting back to work in January. The girls have been busy baking Christmas treats and making decorations for the house (our origami practice from the summer has come in handy)

We have also very much enjoyed walking around our local neighbourhood looking at the Christmas lights which this year are amazing. We have explored corners of our town which we have never ventured to before in the quest to find the most colourfully decorated house in Hinckley!

Extra time in the evenings has also meant we are enjoying revisiting our selection of Christmas books, favourites so far are The Box of Delights (John Mansfield) and The Polar Express......we always save The Night before Christmas poem for Christmas Eve.

Finally I wanted to say thank you to everyone for your help and support this year, although not able to meet and sing all together for so long it has been great to see you when we could and also receive all of your emails, texts and even zoom calls - its helped to keep us going through 2020:-)

I may take a break next week from the email so will sign of for a while now.....

Wishing you all a very peaceful Christmas and a Happy and Healthy 2021

Love from Sarah, Tom , Emily, Phoebe and Thomas the Cat xxxx
