

Good Morning everyone

Today is our second Sunday since the current lockdown when we're back to having worship in the church buildings as well as at home. Thank you to everybody who made last week's Mothering Sunday service at Kingsbury such a lovely time. Today we will be holding services at Merevale at 11am and at Baxterley at 4.30pm, and on Wednesday we'll be resuming weekly services at Wood End at 9.30am. Once again, do please continue with all the things we are now used to doing to keep as safe as possible, and please don't feel under pressure to attend if you do not yet feel safe to do so. Our video services and so on will be continuing for as long as they are wanted.

The service for today was largely filmed at Merevale, and I hope that you enjoy it. I look forward to seeing some of you soon, and all of you I hope before too long.

With prayers and good wishes

John

The last week has been busy with school and work and we have been tackling another project to decorate Emily's bedroom as a birthday gift for her ready for next Saturday. She has been sleeping in the top of a high bunk bed for years and if you have seen how tall she has recently become you will understand she has been finding it a bit of a squash! So she now has new Harry Potter wallpaper and a regular bed she can stretch out in and we have a happy teenager who can sleep better! Winning all round!

We have just one more week until the Easter School break and Tom's birthday is on Wednesday too so lots to keep us going over the next few days.

Hope to see some of you soon, and sending lots of love to those who are still shielding.

Stay safe and well

Sarah and the family xxxx
