

Dear friends

Today we have services at Hurley at 9.30 and at Kingsbury at 11am. For those who are unable or prefer not to be at either of those services, the video of the readings and reflection follows.

Readings and Reflection for the Sixteenth Sunday after Trinity

A reflection By Revd John White on the readings for the Sixteenth Sunday after Trinity (27 September 2020), Philippians 2.1-13 and Matthew 21.23-32

As well as the weekly newsletter, I am also attaching a letter that I have sent by post to those of our contact list who do not use email. It gives information about our plans as they currently stand, about church services, Harvest and annual meetings. Please note that now that we are resuming Sunday services at Hurley, on the 2nd and 4th Sunday of each month, we shall no longer be holding a Thursday morning service at Hurley. The Wednesday mornings at Wood End continue every week at 9.30am.

I must dash, as I need to be at Hurley soon!

Prayers and best wishes

John
